
New to the neighborhood

Posted by esh - 2009/10/09 22:04

Ran across the site on a google search. Thought I'd say hi, just moved in a few months ago.

Catching up on all the neighborhood happenings, etc with the HOA. Too bad it doesn't look like any changes made it into the covenants last year? I really wanted to modify that one where the ACC can intrude on my property at any moment. I just think notification should be given with a specific date/time.

I was surprised to click on summary of covenants and find this.

6. No outside TV antennas or satellite dishes are allowed.

Telecommunications Act of 1996 anyone?

Seriously this thing is in need of some updates.

When is the next meeting? I missed the last one.

Hey, welcome to the neighborhood.

Most discussions on the covenants come down to a few control-freaks vs the more libertarian contingent...

There was a hoa meeting a couple weeks ago, on a sunday afternoon, but I missed it myself because I had to work...

Anyway, welcome to the neighborhood!
