Nice!

I did a review of CAO cigars for Cigar Magazine's last issue. I love most of their cigars.

RP are nice, and I've got some nice Toranos as well. Have you tried the Blue Lable by Pepin? Or any of the Victor Sinclair cigars? the victor sinclair bohemians are really tasty. I had one on the deck last night.

No I have not tried the Pepin Blue Lable and I haven't had a Victor Sinclair cigar in 10 years.

I believe it was a Light Up Atlanta event that I was given a Victor Sinclair. I thought is was a wonderful smoke but I could never find them after that night.

I'll have to let you have one of mine... I have some of the blue lables and a lot of various VS blends. I smoked a VS Bohemian maduro the other evening.

I wonder if there are other Cigar afficiandos in the neighborhood...

Are you going to show up to the meeting tonight? If so, I have a Victor Sinclair for you, and a Torano maduro Exodus1959.

I don't know of any others but surely there must.

Yes, I did plan on attending tonights meeting. I look forward to meeting you.

I'm also curious, what is your favorite beverage to accompany a fine cigar?

I'm a beer drinker, myself. and with the huge variety of beers out there, lots of good "pairings".

I've got to get out and meet more of my neighbors!

That is what I prefer as well though I don't mind a good scotch every now and then.

If the vote goes the other way then perhaps we can have a cigar night in the new clubhouse.

A good idea, but I'd imagine that someone, in their all knowing nanny state wisdom, will declare it a "non smoking" facility.

Sorry I didn't get a chance to introduce myself but it was late and it appeared that you were staying to have a discussion with our prez so I went on to the house. Turns out I was the one sitting to your right.

I'll be posting a message about what he said at the end... that "discussion" lasted maybe a minute...

No worries - but I'd recognize you in a crowd now...LOL

John, where do you generally buy your cigars? Online, local merchants...?

Brian -
Almost always buy my singles at one of the shops. New shop there near biglots - Truely cigars - has a nice humidor.
If I choose to get a box or a bundle of them, I'll check online.
Looking for something special? Hey, a friend of mine and I are probably going to Winstons next tuesday.

No, nothing in particular. I did just buy a box of CAO Cameroon online so I thought I'd ask another cigar person where they bought theirs.
Tuesday I'll be in Chattanooga. Again.

AHH, the CAO Cameroon.
Yes, by the box those are over 120 in the shops, if I recall. Tasty Cigar.
Yep, I typically try them in the shops, buy quantity online for the discount, though there is a new shop on sandy plains - Truly Cigars - that has decent prices. If you 'join' for 75/yr you get 20% off all box purchases and a locker to store stuff.
I'm just not on sandy plains all that often to justify 75$.

I've seen the store but have not stopped yet. I usually go to the store a little further down Sandy Plains.
And as for $75, that's a pretty good box of cigars online.

Well, 75 buys you the locker, plus 20% off all purchases... so if you go there OFTEN, it can work out... I just don't see myself there more than once per month...
